The Racing Scene: Great Fall Season

By Don Reed

A note of optimism is noticeable as Maryland's three major race courses prepare for the 52-day fall season which gets under way at Laurel on Saturday, Oct. 4. And there is an unusual spirit of cooperation being shown by the managements of the three tracks with a view to giving horsemen and the public a better picture of what the State will have to offer from that opening date through Saturday, Dec. 6.

Not long ago there appeared in the racing periodicals, a sizable advertisement in which all three tracks advertised their stakes attractions, 19 in all, and also pointed out the fact that $1,720,000 in purse money would be distributed during the 52-day fall meetings.

This was something new in Maryland where it has been every man for himself for quite some time. Another encouraging item was the fact that all three tracks were sending emissaries to other racing centers, seeking stakes nominations and also encouraging important stables to campaign in the Old Line State.

That had been done before but never on quite as large a scale and seldom with any reasonable assurance that success would mark the efforts of these emissaries. This year some definite promises have been made and all signs point to the presence in the State of a sizable number of stables which should add to the lustre of the racing.

The complete stakes program for Maryland this fall is indeed an impressive one and it runs like this:

LAUREL

Saturday, Oct. 4—The Turf Cup Handicap, $15,000 added, 1⅛ miles, 3-year-olds and up, on the turf.

Wednesday, Oct. 8—Laurel Sprint Handicap, $10,000 added, 6 furlongs, 3-year-olds and upward.

Saturday, Oct. 11—Selima Stakes, $25,000 added, 1 1/16 miles, 2-year-old fillies.

Wednesday, Oct. 15—Maryland Futurity, $10,000 added, 6 furlongs, 2-year-olds, foaled in Maryland.

Saturday, Oct. 18—Washington, D. C. International (invitation), $50,000 added, 1½ miles, 3-year-olds and up, on the turf.

Friday, Oct. 24—Spalding Lowe Jenkins, $10,000 added, 1 1/16 miles, 2-year-olds.

PIMLICO

Saturday, Oct. 25—Pimlico Special (invitation only, winner take all), $25,000, 1 1/16 miles.

Saturday, Nov. 1 — Pimlico Futurity, $25,000 added, 1 1/16 miles, 2-year-olds.

Tuesday, Nov. 11 — Gallorette Stakes, $25,000 added, 1⅛ miles, 3-year-olds and up, fillies and mares.

Saturday, Nov. 15—Exterminator, $20,000 added, 1½ miles, 3-year-olds and up.

BOWIE

Monday, Nov. 17—Barbara Frietchie Handicap, $20,000 added, 1 1/16 miles, 3-year-olds and up, fillies and mares.

Wednesday, Nov. 19—Annapolis Plate Handicap, $10,000 added 6 furlongs, all ages.

Saturday, Nov. 22—Maryland Gold Cup, $50,000 added, 1 1/16 miles, 2-year-olds.

Thursday, Nov. 27 — Fort McHenry Handicap, $25,000 added, 1⅛ miles, 3-year-olds and up.

Saturday, Nov. 29—Capitol Hill Handicap, $15,000 added, 7 furlongs, all ages.

Wednesday, Dec. 3—Bowie Breeders Stakes, $7,500 added, 1 1/16 miles, 2-year-olds.

Saturday, Dec. 6 — President's Plate Handicap, $50,000 added, 1¼ miles, 3-year-olds and up.

Bowie is the leader in the total stakes offerings of $420,000, giving $177,500 in seven events; Pimlico is giving $122,500 in six and Laurel is offering $120,000 in six.

Laurel's stakes, not already closed, will close on Sept. 15, those at Pimlico on Oct. 1 and Bowie's specials will have their lists shut on Nov. 1.

At Bowie large groups of workmen are racing against time and possible bad weather, to complete an array of improvements for the first meeting to be held on its own track by the new Bowie management, headed by Larry MacPhail. Road changes, increased parking lots, installation of a seven furlong chute are among the items on which work is being done while the entire oval has been revamped for the fall meeting.

Meanwhile the special committee investigating all phases of racing in the State has held numerous sessions with a variety of topics being discussed. The half-milers had their evening, the mutuel employees were heard and Pimlico's proposed rebuilding has entered into almost every session of the committee.

Pimlico, it appears, is approaching the fall season with very little of its proposed program undertaken. Some was cancelled by order of the Racing Commission and the rest of it, which was to have been done by now, has been held up because the Racing Commission failed to write a letter of authorization for such work, as it promised to do.

Why the Commission's letter was delayed has not been explained but it is something into which the committee might turn its investigation with a chance of coming up with a piece of valuable information.

Business prospects for the fall are bright. Hagerstown enjoyed a banner season, surpassing all previous records and as this is written, Timonium was on its way to the same sort of meeting. Marlboro is not expected to be any exception to the rule of increased crowds and betting handles.

Laurel's International

Marylanders, who normally take their racing seriously but in a matter-of-fact fashion, have been chatting about the coming fall season with louder tones and more exuberance than usual. The reason for above-average elation and interest is John D. Schapiro's $50,000 Washington, D. C. International invitational turf race at Laurel Race Course on the afternoon of Saturday, October 18.

There has never been anything like it in the United States, much less Maryland. Scheduled to be held from a walkup start and under weight-for-age conditions, the International is slowly taking on all the aspects of one of the world's great sporting classics. And well it might be.

At this writing, from England are coming George Rolls' Zucchero and Robert C. Boucher's Wilwyn. Ireland is sending the Aga Khan's Nashua, Prince Aly Khan's Royal Blue and Mrs. John Thursby's D.C.M. Baron Fritz Thyssen's Niederlander, winner of the German Derby, will represent Germany in the lineup and Senor J. Silvera's Again will carry the hopes of Argentina.

Ralph Strassburger, the American publisher who resides in France, has his Worden II primed for the American invasion. This frequent winner in Europe will represent the Tri-Color of the French Republic.

Indian Hemp, bought in England and now in this country awaiting the International, will be the Canadian horse in the classic. He is owned by Max Bell, youthful Alberta newspaper publisher.

Like the Thoroughbreds, the riders who will handle them at Laurel in October possess color and class in equal portions. The great Rae Johnstone is due to ride Worden II and England's Manny Mercer and Lester Piggott will be here to handle Wilwyn and Zucchero, respectively. Otto Schmidt, the German veteran, will end his saddle career in the International with Niederlander as his last mount. And Johnny Longden, the American jockey who is second only to England's Gordon Richards in number of winners handled, will handle Indian Hemp for his old friend Bell.

John Schapiro, whose brilliant conception of this race has pushed the name of Laurel into the corners of the globe where the turf sport is a part and parcel of everyday life, has forwarded an invitation to Queen Elizabeth of England to send Gay Time to Maryland for the race.

Since the starting field in the International will be limited to a dozen starters, it will contain no more than three American Thoroughbreds. A committee of turf scribes from the Baltimore and Washington area, headed by Nelson Dunstan, of the Triangle Publications, Inc., is now at work selecting the horses to be invited from a field of 20 prospects.

Others on the panel are Raleigh Burroughs of the Turf and Sport Digest, William Boniface and Snowden Carter of the Baltimore Sunpapers, Gale D. (Gaby) Haugh, of the Baltimore News-Post, Joseph Brocator of the Washington Times-Herald, Walter Haight of the Washington Post, Everett Gardner of the Washington Daily News and Charles Egan of the Washington Star. . . .

Of course, there is always the possibility that injuries or shipping mishaps may cause the race to fall back into the routine category. But Schapiro has made the effort, and that, in itself, is sufficient proof that this youthful track president is determined to inject Maryland racing to the lofty pedestal where it belongs.

Six-Pony Hitch Popular At Fair

By FLORENCE DRILL

A thrilling and spectacular exhibition by the Curtiss Candy Company's internationally famous six-pony hitch was a nightly attraction in Timonium's Big Show. These spirited ponies put on a fast-stepping exhibition of teamwork and skill at every performance. Every moment is packed with thrilling displays of skill and beauty when these clever little animals are in action. Their routine includes the performance of figure eights, clover leaves and sharp turns. As announcer Bill Foley put it, "they can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change," and that they can.

The first hitch was started by the company back in 1942 and now there are three complete groups on the road visiting fairs and exhibitions all over the country. The ponies performing at Timonium range in age from four to fourteen, the youngest learning from the older experienced ones. Named after Walt Disney's Seven Dwarfs, they are Sleepy, Grumpy, Dopey, Sneezy, Doc, Happy and Bashful, the seventh being used as a spare. The original Bashful, a 22-year-old stallion wheel pony and father of most of these little performers, was retired at the 1949 American Royal in Kansas City. He is enjoying the pastures of the Curtiss Candy Company Farms in Cary, Illinois.

The ponies range in height from 42" to 47", and weigh from 300 to 400 lbs. each. The two smallest ponies are the leaders, those in the middle are referred to as the swing team, and the largest ones are wheelers, that is, they have the position next to the wagon. All the ponies are black cross-breds (Shetland and Hackney), and are of the King Larigo strain of the Shetland breed. Pony lovers everywhere recognize this strain as producing some of the finest Shetlands in the country. A lengthy search was required to find a group of ponies that could be matched for color, height, weight and general appearance. Their miniature harness with its gleaming patent leather and chrome trimming took over a year to make and enlisted the skill of craftsmen from the United States, Canada and England. The wagon is scaled down and is completely hand tooled and aluminum trimmed from top to bottom, costing approximately $3,500.

Ably handled by Oley Johnson, the ponies show their best when doing figure eights. Handling reins is an art in itself and Mr. Johnson does a wonderful job with them, often averting a catastrophe by his quick thinking and handling. All their work is done at a full gallop and the ponies respond beautifully to their handler. They are kept in top condition at all times, and the tack is cleaned thoroughly after each performance with the help of Ben Bright and Elmo Jackson.

Asking Oley for some interesting facts about the hitch he advised that they are all gentle but like kids, can act up. While traveling in their specially constructed trailer they eat their hay out of one rack in the middle, each one trying to hurry and eat more than the other.

A specially constructed 30 foot trailer carries the hitch in complete comfort from show to show. It represents the latest innovation in development and design.

Feder

Maryland's Governor Theodore R. McKeldin tries his hand at driving the pony hitch.

For Fun's Sake

There's nothing pretentious about the Piney Hill Jockey Club's annual horse show—in fact, if there were its sponsors would quit sponsoring it.

The show (which will be staged for the tenth time on September 21) was conceived by three former show ring riders who were distressed over the trend toward commercialization so prevalent at other horse exhibitions.

Unable to tell other show committees how to conduct their affairs, the three Monkton horse devotees decided to stage a show of their own—just for the fun of the thing.

The rules they laid down were unique: Riders must wear farm clothes or else be disqualified. Not entry fee. No admission fee.

Those three regulations established the theme of the affair, and embellishments only heightened its casualness.

Prizes, for example, have included a bag of corn, a fighting cock, a hog and a halter. These rewards to the blue ribbon winners are less showy than silver cups, but (except for the game cock) considerably more practical.

Originators of the show were Polly Sattler (now Mrs. Robert Mowell), Marion Birmingham and Louis Pascal.

"The idea," says Pascal, "came to us one day when we were out riding. We remembered how we used to show horses we had on the farm in the 1930's and how we used to win with them. But the kids today didn't seem to have any chance with those kinds of horses. Everything had gotten too big. The kids who were winning ribbons were the ones riding horses worth a couple thousand dollars.

"So we thought we'd put on a show that the children in our own area would enjoy. We didn't want to make any money—just give everybody a good time."

The show, first staged at Mrs. E. G. Boyce's Bacon Hall Farm, was an immediate success. The judges were instructed to disregard the conformation of all horses, and grade contestants only on performance.

From the Bacon Hall Farm, the site of the show was moved successively to the Foxden Farm, then owned by Charles Kraus and later by John Carter, and then to its present location at the Glencoe farm of A. Roland Worrall.

The show has grown to the extent that it now requires ten directors, and two of the original group, Mrs. Mowell and Pascal, are still active. Miss Birmingham has moved to Tennessee.

Again this year one of the original features will be offered: a greasy pole with a sawbuck on the top.

Classes include: Horsemanship for persons 15 to 150 years of age; musical chairs, rumble seat class with two or more persons to ride on one horse over 2½ foot jumps; costume class open to everyone either riding or driving.

Laurel's Racing Library

Frank Brady, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Laurel organization, has advised that Laurel's Turf Library is steadily growing. The library, which will be maintained in a special section of the new Club House, contains complete sets of the American and English Stud Books, Bloodstock Breeders Review, Thoroughbred Sires and Dams, and many other works.

Among volumes needed to complete sets are copies of the American Racing Manual for 1926, 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1946, and for all years prior to 1922; Racing Form Charts Books dating back from 1919; Goodwin's Guides for 1882 (2 volumes); copies of the Blood-Horse Supplements for 1944, 1945, 1947 and 1950.

Individuals who may have any of these volumes available for sale or gift to the library, are invited to get in touch with Mr. Brady at the Laurel Race Course, telephone Laurel 410.

Native Dancer, Best of the Crop

BY JOE H. PALMER

IT is not, of course, unusual for the Saratoga meeting to point out the best 2-year-old of the year, but is is not often that it points out one as good as Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer seems to be. His record of four victories in four starts is not unparalleled there (he had won two other races in April, at Jamaica) for Pavot did it in 1944, and Maedic improved it a little, winning five for five in 1936, the Hopeful included in both cases. Devil's Thumb won five of the Saratoga 2-year-old stakes in 1942, but he had marred his record a little at the beginning, being beaten in the opening Flash Stakes. Bimelech in 1939 and Blue Peter in 1948 stood out just as thoroughly, but each of them won only two stakes at Saratoga.

Maedic, which has the best record on paper, does not have it anywhere else, because he caught the best of the 2-year-olds coughing, and Forty Winks was about as much as he had to beat. He didn't even wind up as leading 2-year-old for the season, that honor going to Pompoon. Neither he nor El Chico amounted to much as 3-year-olds. Devil's Thumb did not race at three, and Blue Peter didn't either; in fact he died without ever getting back to the races.

Of the remaining two, Bimelech proved to be the 3-year-old champion of 1940, and Pavot, though he was beaten around a good deal in 1945, managed to salvage the Belmont Stakes and became a good handicapper later. So, though the odds are a bit against Native Dancer, there's no jinx on him either.

One small oddity deserves mention. Not many 2-year-olds sweep through the Saratoga meeting unbeaten, so there is some coincidence in the fact that Native Dancer and El Chico are from the same immediate family. El Chico's dam was La Chica, by Sweep, and Native Dancer's dam, Geisha, is La Chica's granddaughter.

Mr. Vanderbilt has of course shed a good deal of luster on Maryland breeding, but he would have shed a good deal more if his top horses had been homebreds. Actually Maryland has a real claim on them, since they were raised in that state, but Bed o' Roses and Next Move were foaled in California, and Native Dancer was foaled in Kentucky, at Dan W. Scott's farm, Geisha having been sent away to be bred to Amphitheatre. The mating was vaguely prophetic, for it was an Amphitheatre colt, Greentree's Tiger Skin, which gave Native Dancer the nearest thing he got to a fight at Saratoga. But in 1951 she was bred back to Polynesian, indicating that Native Dancer was already suspected of being a good colt.

To clear up the entire breeding background, Geisha was a home-bred, one of the three foals which were bred at Sagamore from the stout gray mare, Miyako, which won the Autumn Day Stakes for A. H. Waterman, from whom Mr. Vanderbilt purchased her in 1940. Miyako died in 1944. Geisha won only one race, at three, from eight starts, and her only other foal of racing age is Orientation, a winner but nothing remarkable.

When the meeting was over, Polynesian's owner, Mrs. P. A. B. Widener, could feel very proud of her stallion, but it was no longer possible to say that he was represented by three unbeaten 2-year-olds, Native Dancer having accounted for the other two, Tahiti and Tahitian King.

For the record, Native Dancer has, at present, won six successive starts. A maiden race and the Youthful at Jamaica were followed by bucked shins, and he did not start again until Saratoga, when he went easily through the Flash, Saratoga Special, Grand Union Hotel, and the Hopeful, and up to here no horse has finished so much as lapped on him. Twice it looked as if he had a horse race on his hands, but both times he tossed his field away and drew out.

The strength of the Chicago invaders, which seem the strongest threat to Native Dancer in the fall races, is hardly known yet. The first of them to show showed very well; this was Saxon Stable's Invigorator, which won the Babylon in a breathless finish, after Dave Gorman had, at an early stage, lost both stirrups. Invigorator is by Harry Isaacs' sire Brookfield, and cost $7,000 as a yearling.

The Aqueduct meeting started out with a bad break in the weather. Last year, opening also on Labor Day, it drew 48,132, who bet a total of $2,895,410. This year the morning of opening day was marked by sheets of rain, driven by wind enough to knock out the electricity in some 25,000 houses on Long Island. Even so, the attendance went to 30,609, which was remarkable under the conditions, and betting got up to $2,227,379. As you can see, the per capita betting average was up, from $60 last year to $74 this season, which proves the old contention that horse players will go out in the rain, while the ribbon clerks stay home.

As to the opening feature, the Aqueduct Handicap, history repeated itself. Last year the race was won by Christopher T. Chenery's Bryan G., which then had 120 pounds to carry. This year he won it again, under 114 pounds, which suggests he has gone back a little. Such contention as he got came from Greentree's Hall of Fame, but Bryan G. won easily by six lengths. It was the first stakes victory for the new Chenery trainer, W. R. Tayloe.

It was also the first of the year for Bryan G., though he had run in fourteen of them. In his three starts at Saratoga he had got nothing at all, opening up an impossible lead in the last two and then stopping to nowhere in the stretch. This time he didn't stop, possibly helped by the slop.

Hall of Fame's defeat cannot be held against him too greatly. He ran at Jamaica in April, you may remember, and then was out of action until late in the Saratoga meeting. He ran once there, in a sprint, and got nothing, and the Aqueduct Handicap was the second start of his comeback. You'd expect him to improve off the race, and also on a dry track, and in addition he was trying to give the winner nine pounds.

Deadline for $10.00 Foal Registration with the Jockey Club is October 31.

Maryland Fall Sales

Walter A. Edgar, President of the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association, has announced that the Maryland Fall Sales would be held Tuesday, October 21st, on which day no racing will be held at Laurel. Race horses will be sold at Laurel Race Course at 10:00 A.M.; breeding stock at Timonium at 2:30 P.M.; and yearlings at Timonium at 7:30 P.M. Entries already received indicate that all three sales will be well filled. Entries close at the Association's office at Towson, Monday, September 22nd. Consignors are urged to make their entries early.

Satisfactory Pony Sale

The Second Annual Sale of the Maryland Pony Breeders' Association, held in the Livestock Pavilion of the State Fair Grounds at Timonium September 5th, was a highly successful affair. In all, 52 ponies changed hands for an average of $190 each, an increase over the 31 sold last year for an average of $185. Riding ponies, gentle and suitable for children, were in great demand, regardless of appearance or pedigree. Top price of the sale was the $425 paid by George P. Edel of McDonogh for the registered Welsh pony stallion Windholme Second Fiddle, who was sire of the Champion Crossbred pony of the Fair.

Some two thousand buyers and lookers were on hand from half a dozen states. From a small beginning in 1951 the sale appears destined to become an important fixture in the pony breeders' calendar.

Winner of the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association Trophy for the Best Thoroughbred foal was G. W. Stephens Jr's. ch.c. by Chaos out of the former famous show mare Royalwood. President W. A. Edgar of the Breeders' Association presented the trophy to Frank Minor and Norman Chapman, who raised the colt for Mr. Stephens.

Horse Show Points

Miss Lillian Luke, Secretary of the A.M.H.S., has provided us with the standing of the various registered horses and ponies who will be eligible for the Division High Score Awards given by the Association. Points listed, which have been computed on the 5-3-2-1 basis as in 1951, are up to August 24.

Odds and Ends

Danny Shea's improving Jazerant made things tough on Walter A. Edgar's Jack the Great in the Pleasantville Purse at Atlantic City recently . . . the four-year-old Maryland-bred son of Roman-Lucky Jean covered the six furlongs in 1:11⅗, to finish one-half length ahead of the favorite.

Entries in the horse and pony classes at the Maryland State Fair at Timonium set a new high mark . . . in fact, every department reported overwhelming increases.

The Arabian classes, an innovation this year, were very well supported, with 75 entries being exhibited, the largest group coming from the Al-Marah Arabian Horse Farm of Bethesda, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Asmis of Sykesville . . . Grand Champion was the handsome stallion Rafmirz of the Asmis' . . . these beautiful animals drew large crowds to the Horse Show Ring, and they didn't leave until the last class was over.

Peach Bros. did it again this year, taking the Non-Thoroughbred Championship with their entry of Glory G., a three-year-old filly by Ginobi, and Reserve in the Thoroughbred Championship with their yearling colt by Double Play-Star o' Teddy.

There was an unfortunate incident that had a happy ending in the Cross-bred Pony Division . . . returning from the parade of livestock held in front of the Grandstand, Mrs. W. H. B. Howard's gray mare Chickory Chick collided with some machinery and received a deep gash in her rump, requiring several stitches . . . entered in the broodmare class two days later she took top honors, not even being sore, but sound as a dollar.

Hawkins

Dr. John Keeler on the good open jumping mare WOOD SECRET, who broke a fetlock and had to be destroyed at the Hanover Show.

The Pulling Contests were a great success, again drawing huge crowds both nights . . . a newcomer this year, a light team from New York State, broke the State Record by pulling 3,000 lbs. the required distance of 27 feet 6 inches . . . the light pull was held in the Horse Show Ring as the race track was too soft that evening due to rain.

Joe Shirley was doing right well again this year in the Clydesdale Division, winning the Fox Hill Farm trophy and taking first place with his Champion team . . . he also had the honor of driving the Queen of the Fair, Miss Diane Thomas of Taneytown, at the head of the 4-H Parade in front of the Grandstand . . . wet, but unbowed.

The Second Annual Sale of the Maryland Pony Breeders' Association was a big success, sixty ponies selling for approximately $11,000, before a Friday evening audience of 2,000 . . . a humorous incident was the auctioning of a real cute pony mule, the produce of a Sicilian donkey and a Shetland mare . . . he drew lots of attention and bids, finally going to Earl Smith of Perryville . . . credit for the sale goes to Secretary Louise Hollyday and Holden Rodgers who have been working hard to build this sale up to the point it has reached.

Enjoyed by all was the annual bull roast and barbecue given for the State Fair employees on closing day by President William F. Schluderberg and the State Fair executives.

A Maryland-bred five-year-old gelding, Cherwell, owned by Mrs. E. duPont Weir, won the Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase at Fair Hill recently, half-brother to Elkridge, he was bred by J. F. Flanagan . . . James F. McHugh's Basalt was three lengths behind, followed by Mill River Stable's Monkey Wrench, the only other finishers in the three-mile brush event . . . F. Ambrose Clark's Sundance Kid lost his rider at the treacherous Chinese Wall . . . a crowd of approximately 7,500 lined the course to watch the events of the day.

Mrs. Virginia Gretsinger, Publicity Director at the Fair, did an excellent job covering the Horse Department in the Baltimore papers . . .

John Finney, son of Editor Humphrey, did a bang-up job at announcing in the Horse Ring and for the Pulling Contests . . . sure looks like he will follow in his father's footsteps.

MARYLAND PONY SHOW

Billy Boyce, 3rd, and his consistent grey pony Smokey Joe, made almost a clean sweep of the medium pony division at the Maryland Pony Show, which was held July 26th and 27th, at the Maryland State Fair Grounds, Timonium. With his smooth riding owner in the saddle, Smokey Joe was awarded the medium division Championship, plus the Grand Championship of the show. Reserve in the division was won by Fritz Sterbak's Surprise, who was shown throughout the show by her owner.

Mrs. Walter F. Wickes' good looking Mistika, under the capable handling of Patty Boyce, was a triple winner, taking the large Pony Award, reserve grand championship and reserve junior hunter championship. Reserve in the large pony division was won by Nancy Morgan and her high flying Moonbeam.

In the junior hunter division Sydney Gadd and his good pony Craven's Raven again won the championship.

In the junior jumper division Garnet Myers' Pitchblend again came into the spotlight when Irvin Naylor rode him to victory in the Junior Modified Olympic, and placed fourth in the Junior Jumper for a score of 6 points for the championship. Just one point behind was Roxanne Wagner astride her good going Surprise Party, who won the Junior Jumper Class.

Tied for the small pony championship were Mrs. Thomas M. Waller's Smokey and Carroll Ann Ebeling's Merry O. Smokey was ridden by Cynthia Graffam, While Merry O was ridden by Fritz Sterbak. both scoring 14 points. When the ponies were judged on conformation the championship was awarded to Smokey, with Merry O taking the reserve.

An addition to the show this year was the Equitation division, in which Garnet Myers was judged the champion.

The judges of the show were Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Edgar Scott, Mr. John McDonald, and Mrs. Frank Fox.

RIDGELY

The Second Annual Ridgely Horse Show, held for the benefit of the local Chamber of Commerce, drew a large gathering to the Community Park on August 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Westenberger's steady performing chestnut mare Night Wings put up a number of good performances to win the Barbara Shipley, of Riderwood, Md., on her veteran conformation hunter CAMP, champion of the Lancaster, Pa. Show.

"Have used ABSORBINE with great success,"

● Says the famous trainer of Eight Thirty, who has kept horses racing soundly for 30 years, "Absorbine is especially good to use after cold packs on ankles."

When horses come in hot, Absorbine helps cool them out quick and easy. Two ounces in a quart of water acts as a brace, cuts sweat fast.

Absorbine is the approved liniment of the U.S. Polo Association. Also helps relieve saddle sores, collar galls, wind puffs, windgalls. Will not blister, or remove hair. $2.50 a long-lasting bottle at all drug counters. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

hunter championship. This good looking five-year-old, 16 hand mare, by Spanish Jean out of Velvet Queen, was ridden by Mrs. Gardner Hallman. Tied for the reserve were Gray Lark owned by the Hallmans and Doris Spradlin's Timber Boy.

In the jumper division Florence Dallas' Duster was champion over Timber Boy.

Jackie Gaither and his chestnut Eldorado made a clean sweep of the pony division winning three classes. They were also awarded the blue in the Junior Hack and the Junior Jumper events.

The show was judged by Forest Ward.

MY LADY'S MANOR

Making her first show ring appearance since the St. Agnes Horse and Pony Show in June, Claude W. Owen's consistent grey mare Sky's Shadow chalked up another championship at the My Lady's Manor Horse and Pony Show, which was held Saturday, August 4th, at the St. James Church Grounds, near Monkton.

Reserve position in the hunter division was awarded to Grace Gardner astride her big jumping Tanrackin who won the Ladies' Working class.

The open jumper division was a nip-and-tuck duel between William Tat's Nylon and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hallman's Red Knight. Under the capable handling of 16-year-old Fritz Burkhardt, Nylon won the Touch-and-Out, placed second in the Handy Jumper and the Sweepstake. Red Knight, who was ridden as usual by Gardner Hallman won both the Warm Up and the stake for a score of 10 points and the reserve, just beaten a point for top honors.

In the pony division the grand championship was won by Patsy Gorrell and her consistent grey, Thane of Wales. The reserve went to Billy Boyce, 3rd's owner-ridden Smokey Joe.

ALTOONA

The entries of the North Wind Farm, of Burtonsville, Maryland, had a field day at the Altoona Horse Show, held August 9th and 10th, at the Franktown Hunter Club in Altoona. Though only six horses went to the show they came back with 37 ribbons, including two championships and one reserve.

The hardest earned championship of the show came in the jumper division when Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hallman's great Red Knight defeated Harry D. Ryan's Bedford. With Mr. Hallman riding, Red Knight who was the reserve champion at the recent St. Agnes Horse Show, scored in the Handy Jumper and the P. H. A. for a score of 15½ points.

The Working Hunter division was also interesting for local entries as Sally Blauner and her Three's A Crowd took the championship ahead of Claude W. Owen's Sky's Shadow. With her owner up, Three's A Crowd, a bold jumping chestnut mare by One's Enough, won the Open Working and the Working Hunter Stake, and scored 14 points for the award, while Sky's Shadow, ridden by Mrs. Gardner Hallman, won the Ladies' Working Hunter, and other events for a score of 13½ for the reserve.

YORK

Seventeen horses shipped from the old line state to the Thirteenth Annual York Horse Show, which was held August 14th, 15th and 16th.

Mrs. Peggy Skipper Galloway and her good open jumper Rusty made this worthwhile trip as they finished the show with the reserve jumper championship.

In the Green Hunter division Foxhill Farm's Taki, ridden by Charles Lewis, won the reserve championship. Taki, a 16.1½ grey gelding, won the Ladies' Green class, ridden by Daphne Bedford. With Mr. Lewis in the saddle, he won the Lightweight and placed second in three other events.

Local horses did well in the conformation hunter division as Grace Gardner and her Bright Light won the top award ahead of last year's champion, Camp, who is owned and ridden by Barbara Shipley. With his owner riding, Bright Light, who was purchased by Miss Gardner from Waverly Farm of Warrenton, Virginia, put in steady performances throughout the show to win the tri-color.

The judge of the show was Fred Pinch.

PRINCE GEORGE'S DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The Fourteenth Annual Prince George's Democratic Club's Horse and Pony Show was held Sunday, August 17th, at J. B. Bland's estate, near Suitland, Maryland.

Claude W. Owen's Sky's Shadow repeated her win of the 1950 show as she again took the Elmer Pumphrey Memorial Trophy, which is awarded to the horse scoring the most points throughout the show. The trophy was won last year by Roxanne Wagner's Lariat, now owned by George DiPaula.

Tied for the reserve conformation hunter honors were Alta Vista Farm's Blue Ridge and Jo Shipley's Stepalong the former winning out when the pair hacked it off.

Nine-year-old Bobbie Gardner aboard A. S. Dailey's 10-year-old mare Tiny, won the Working Hunter Championship.

Freudy

Winners of the Junior Hunt Team at the Maryland Pony Show were Garnet Myers on WATCH ME, Pat Grady on BALLERINA, and Pat Boyce on MISTIKA.

In the jumper division Ellen Scott and New Hope Farm's Miss Brooks earned their right to the championship by winning the Warm Up and Modified Olympic and placing second in the Open Jumper for a score of 10½ points.

The reserve ribbon was won by Skippy Diehlmann's owner-ridden Play Boy, who won the Knock-Down and Out and 8 points.

Tied for the junior championship were Tiny and Jerry Diehlmann's Steel Rock, each with five points. Tiny won the Junior Hunter, while Steel Rock took the difficult Junior Jumper Class. When the horses were shown under saddle the championship was awarded to Tiny, with Steel Rock taking the reserve.

Nancy Morgan and her racy looking Moonbeam were the popular winners of the Pony Grand Championship with a score of 10 points. Closest rival was Martha Sterbak and Northlite who won the reserve with 6 points.

The judges of the show were Lawrence T. Parker, Carroll Curran, Mrs. Robert A. Beer and Thomas J. Trodden, Jr.

National Horse Show

A total of 126 events, including 22 championships, worth $33,072 in prizes, will be highlighted at the 64th National Horse Show, November 4-11, at Madison Square Garden by the U. S. Equestrian Team, fresh from overseas competition, clashing with top form military riders in similar jumping to the Olympics.

The climax to the horse show season in the major sports champions crowned at the Garden is matched by the opening of the New York social season amid traditional pageantry and high fashion. Officials of the National, with the prize list just mailed to nearly 2,000 exhibitors, are already busy arranging accommodations for the best of the equine crop from all over the country.

The U. S. Equestrian Team, having won high honors in Germany, third place in the Prix des Nations at Helsinki, second spot at Dublin, and an exciting close second at London, will battle the best riders representing Ireland, Mexico and Canada at five matinees and all eight evening performances of the National. Italy and Spain, also invited by Brig. Gen. Alfred G. Tuckerman, president of the Show, are possible additions.

While the official line-up of the American team of timber-toppers is still uncertain, it probably will include Arthur McCashin, Pluckemin, N. J., William Steinkraus, Westport, Conn., and Mrs. Carol Durand, who comprised the 1951 team at the National, together with Major John Russell, who has returned to active duty abroad.

A Great State Fair

None of the two-hundred-odd thousand persons who attended the agricultural section of the 71st Maryland State Fair at Timonium would deny that the 1952 event was the greatest in the long history of the Fair. From the opening Wednesday, August 27th, until the last man left the grounds Saturday night, September 6th, the Fair was packed with interest and drew tremendous support from the public.

In the Horse Department, Judge Harry W. Smith started off with a first class Arabian show which drew some 80 entries from a half-dozen states. It was the first time that the Arabian breed had been given recognition at Timonium and well did its exponents support the management in every class. Arabian classes were interspersed with those for Half-breds which, as usual, were dominated by the powerful Peach Bros. stable.

Thoroughbreds were up to par both in number and quality, with considerable strength showing in the younger divisions. Judge Norman Haymaker had little hesitancy in selecting C. Ewing Tuttle's Maryland-bred stakes winner Double Brandy, now in the stud at Caves Valley Farm, as his Thoroughbred Champion.

Mrs. Norman Rockwell, who has done so much in support of the pony clubs in Canada, had a fine group of young riders to pick over in the Equitation Show, her champions being Audrey Rickey, and Mickey Hopkins. The 4-H Horsemanship classes drew considerable interest and are likely to grow next year, the Champions here being the Worralls of Sparks.

Among the draft classes interest as usual was keen. Judge Robert Porteous had some excellent individuals to deal with. A particularly attractive event was that for pure-bred teams in harness, which was won by Bobby Shirley driving the Champion Clydesdale mare, Belair Dorothy Dix, and her mate. The Clydesdale pair beat Billy Page's Percherons, which included the Grand Champion mare Ura Degas.

The Pulling Contest drew a tremendous crowd interest with 12 teams participating among the light weights, and 16 among the heavies. The winning light team set a new record of three thousand pounds.

Ponies as usual were a great show with every breed showing a rise in entries. Judge A. D. Ness of Toronto had his work cut out in every division, his Supreme Champion being the Saddle Acres Pony Farm's Welsh stallion Monarch's Delight, who had won his breed award.

The Welsh Pony Society of America again held its annual meeting at Timonium. Another dinner meeting held was that of the Eastern Arabian breeders and exhibitors.

Individual awards in the various breeds follow:

The Children's Fitting and Showing Contest, sponsored by the Saddle Acres Pony Farm, drew a lot of interest from the spectators, the same being true of the exhibitions of the Curtiss Candy Company's Six Pony Hitch.

The Pony Sale, which is covered elsewhere in this issue, was a great success with sixty ponies changing hands for an average of approximately $180. Governor McKeldin honored the show with his attendance and presented the Sheppard Trophy to Mary Claire Treadwell of Bel Air, and the Reserve ribbon to Helene V. Asmis of Sykesville. Following the presentation the Governor made a circle of the ring aboard the candy company's wagon and was taken on a tour of inspection of the Fair by the hitch's driver Oley Johnson, who reported the affair to have been interesting and politically broadening.

Timonium's Farm Queen, Diane Thomas, who breeds Palominos on her family's Carroll County Farm, was also a frequent visitor at the Horse Ring and showed great interest in the talent displayed in dressage by Miss Lilian Wittmack, one of the stars of the night show in front of the grandstand.

Though the Labor Day horse and pony parade had to be abandoned on account of the weather, a very successful parade of horses and cattle was held in front of the grandstand prior to the night show on the day after Labor Day. This innovation proved particularly attractive to the crowds along the midway and in the grandstand.

Racing at Timonium was better than ever with horsemen and jockeys uniting in praise of the new racing strip which Bruce Campbell and his aides constructed this year. The Maryland

McLennan Heads T. R. A. Selection Board

Charles J. McLennan, who has been named as Chairman of the TRA Board of Selection for the naming of the official turf champions of 1952, began his career selling racing programs. Today, as racing secretary at Hialeah, Florida, Pimlico and Laurel in Maryland and the Michigan Racing Association at Detroit, he makes them, writing the conditions under which the races are run and assigning the weights for the handicap events.

The son of "Little Joe" McLennan, for whom the McLennan Stakes at Hialeah is named, Charles went to work under his father in 1924 and by 1930 had struck out on his own as racing secretary at Chicago's Hawthorne track. In a few years he was nationally recognized and today is considered one of the top men in his profession.

Unlike many in racing, McLennan has never had a yen to own and train his own horses. "One trainer in the family is enough." he says. Mrs. McLennan, the former Mary Hirsch, daughter of Max Hirsch, was the first woman in the United States to be granted a trainers' license by the Jockey Club. Today Mrs. McLennan's training activities are confined to the McLennan youngsters, a boy and a girl and to young horses, the produce of several brood mares she keeps at their farm near Towson, Maryland.

The nature of the racing secretary's work, which requires a knowing appraisal of horses, not alone for the purpose of assigning weights in big handicap events but for the writing of conditions for races which will insure well-

The Champions will be announced on November 26 and awards will be made to their owners at a dinner marking the 11th annual membership meeting of TRA to be held in New York on December 4.

Book Review

A FULL LIFE

THE SECOND BURST (second Volume in Autobiography of Sir Alfred Munnings). 350 pp., ill., cl., Museum Press, Ltd., London, S.W.7. The British are more observant, live fuller lives and get solid enjoyment out of trifles that we dash past without noticing—that is the conclusion reached by the reader as he completes the second installment of Sir Alfred Munnings' story of himself. Slowly, though, comes the realization that it is not particularly the Briton, but the artist, who notes the vividness of small blossoms, the flash of each passing bird, the beauty of green fields and the charm of old places.

With his words, Sir Alfred Munnings drafts a pattern for a full life, just as brilliantly as his brush puts moving things on canvas. Every moment must be accounted for. A walk through the woods is a mission of exploration, with new and wondrous vistas opened at every turn; the purchase of a house to live in an adventure, exciting, frightening, satisfying.

Who but an artist would think of embarking upon an argosy for a home with a car full of friends and picnic baskets? And who but a man who was spreading out his hours to get the full enjoyment of every one would stop for lunch on the lawn before bursting in and exploring the castle of his dreams?

"The Second Burst" is written in an easy-going style, perhaps rambling at times, but it is very pleasant reading, and the side tours are as delightful as a pause in an ancient tavern.

The book is illustrated with paintings by the author. They pop up with a frequency that makes it seems impossible a man could have done so many in one lifetime. The photographic reproductions are excellent and give the owner of the book a Munnings gallery in black and white.

"The Second Burst" is recommended reading.

Saratoga Yearling Sale

A Maryland breeder this year had the honor of ranking third in prices obtained at Saratoga when Breckinridge Long's strapping colt by Shut Out out of Nasca was knocked down to the bid of the Greentree Stable at $30,000. Raised by the Pons brothers at Country Life Farm, Bel Air, this well balanced individual had drawn a lot of attention ever since arriving at the Spa, so it was no surprise to see the price obtained for him.

Larry MacPhail's Glenangus Farms, which averaged better than $7500 for 27 head this year, also had an excellent sale with the only son of Hyperion offered at Saratoga going at $20,000 to top the lot.

In all, more than two million dollars was realized for the horses sold, the market showing a healthy demand for likely stock throughout. Unfortunately, a poor catalogue on the first and last nights did a good deal to knock down the average, despite the great sale enjoyed by Henry Knight for his Almahurst yearlings. List of Maryland consignors and buyers follows:

The Editor's Saddle Bag

July 18. After a week in hospital it was good to get out to Timonium again to look over the progress of the well appointed 4-H Building that is being readied for occupancy by the boys at the Fair. Found the track in very good shape, with such horsemen as have seen it enthusiastic about the Campbell product.

July 19. Down to Friendship Airport early this morning to take the American Airlines plane to LaGuardia and thence to Belmont Park for a very successful sale of the Brookmeade Stable yearlings. If today's sale is any indication, averages are going to be up well at Keeneland and Saratoga. Flew home this evening in good shape.

July 20. Arthur Hullcoat flew in from Ohio this morning and took us out to his Panorama Farm to look over his horse situation. Discussed possible changes of procedure and came home by way of Three Cousins Farm, where last week's storm had done plenty of damage.

July 25. Flew down to Lexington this afternoon and checked in at the Lafayette. Went down to Almahurst to see the Knight yearlings with Dr. Charlie Hagyard, winding up for dinner at the sumptuous new Campbell House, which is quite an addition to Lexington's comfort.

July 26. Out at Keeneland early this morning inspecting yearlings. Admired the new construction that has been done since the Fall Sales very much. Accommodations for horsemen greatly improved. Then to the Campbell House for a meeting of directors of the National Association of Thoroughbred Breeders, presided over by Larry MacPhail. After general discussion it was agreed that N.A.T.B. must prepare to broaden its scope and take in individual members with a view to strengthening its sinews of war.

KING BRAND FEEDS

BROODMARE FEED • YEARLING FEED

"Supreme in their Fields"

MANY Champions and Blue Ribbon winners at the Pimlico and Timonium Yearling Shows have been raised on KING BRAND YEARLING FEED from the time they were weaned. The dams of many winners have been fed KING BRAND BROODMARE FEED while carrying their foals and while nursing them.

Whether you are consigning Yearlings to the sales, or whether you are breaking them and putting them in training, they will do better if fed KING BRAND YEARLING FEED.

A correct balance of Choice Grains, with the addition of Minerals and Vitamins make our feeds the valuable products they are. No drugs are used. All feeds re-cleaned and mixed the day they are ordered.

July 27. Inspecting yearlings with the thermometer standing at 103° does not make for a pleasant existence yet many braved the heat to look over the offerings.

July 28. Very satisfactory sale today, average $6,328. Harry Isaacs bought a strapping Mr. Busher colt for $16,000. Ray Bryson and the Leatherbury Brothers from Southern Maryland the only other Marylanders buying. Temperature. 102°. Sale very draggy, finishing close on 7:00 P.M., almost as bad as Newmarket in December.

July 29. Averages up again $7,297 for 93 head with Blue Man's brother star of the sale at $32,000. Mrs. Ray Wimer another Maryland buyer. The Riddle yearlings in plenty of demand.

July 30. Word from Laurel this morning that John Schapiro has announced an International Race to be run over the turf at a mile and a half at Laurel this fall. Sales still climbing, today's average for 95 head $8,503, with a top of $58,000 for Leslie Combs' Alibhai colt out of Miss Dogwood, bought by James O. McCue. Al Sears and Pete Allnutt joined the ranks of Maryland buyers today.

July 31. Sale wound up this evening, 367 head having sold for $2,729,700, or an average of $7,438. Jim Carson, of Perryville, and Al Sears only Maryland buyers today. Shipped a van load to Maryland this afternoon.

August 1. The O. J. Breault horses were sold this morning, the stallion With Pleasure going for $30,000. The market has been excellent throughout. Wound up the day with a visit to the R. W. P. Johnston farm to have a look at their Saratoga consignment.

August 2. Shipped a carload of yearlings and broodmares to Timonium for Ray Bryson this morning then took the afternoon plane for Baltimore, arriving at Towson tonight.

August 3. Out to Timonium this morning to see that all was unloaded in good shape, the horses being quickly transferred to the vans and being sent on their way.

August 7. Had a look around Timonium tonight before the meeting of the Finance Committee, found the track all finished and the 4-H Building also well along.

August 8. Went down to Holly Beach Farm at Annapolis this morning to inspect a number of Thoroughbreds owned by Mrs. Harry Parr, III.

August 9. Left home early this morning, driving up by way of the New Jersey Turnpike and the Parkway to Saratoga, where we arrived just in time to meet Tyson Gilpin of the Fasig-Tipton Company and attend the Aly Khan's cocktail party which drew a big crowd.

August 10. Spent most of the morning inspecting yearlings, finding an excellent group in the main here for sale. Many spectators hanging around in the hope of seeing the Prince Aly who duly obliged by putting in an appearance this afternoon.

August 11. Had to miss Timonium's annual Press Party as Saratoga duties held us at the Spa. Had breakfast at the track to watch the early training. Rigan McKinney, Danny Shea, Mrs. R. H. Heighe and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell were among the Marylanders early on the scene looking at the yearlings. Breckinridge Long and the Pons boys had many visitors to see the former's colt out of Nasca.

August 12. Started off today's sales on a light note with 55 head averaging about $1,830. Bought a useful looking Alorter colt for Gus Weimer. Lee J. Weist of Owings Mills picked up a couple of bargains. Only Marylanders selling were Sam Bogley and George DeFranceaux, the former getting $4,200 for his Alaking colt.

August 13. This has been a most hectic day and night with the Aga Khan's yearlings coming up for sale and the biggest crowd ever seen around the Saratoga arena to be contended with. Mr. Long's Shut Out colt easily topped the market at $30,000 going to John Gaver's bid for Greentree. The Pons boys had a fair sale though not spectacular, of their Country Life Farm horses. Walter Appel got a nice filly by Bolingbroke from Morven Stud, this being the sole purchase of the evening for Maryland. The Aga Khan's lot went very well indeed. The 54 head sold tonight averaged $7,033.

August 14. With Larry MacPhail's Glenangus sale and the Nydrie consignment up this was another big night, total figures showing 57 head averaging $7,244. Nydrie's Polynesian filly was bought at $26,500 to go to England. She topped the night's market with Larry MacPhail's Hyperion colt bringing $20,000 on the bid of Paul Grissom of Duntreath Farm. John Pons, Ray Bryson, Bowes Bond, Gee Cohen and Frank Bonsal were Maryland buyers.

August 15. The most spectacular sale ever held at Saratoga or any place else was staged tonight when Henry Knight's Almahurst Farm sold 47 horses for a total of $682,700 or an average of $14,525 each. Jim Ryan bought the first lot, a sister to Spartan Valor, for $37,000, the top of the night being $46,000 paid by Chester Gates, manager of John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, for the filly by Roman out of Miss Brief. Thus it went all evening with fillies selling proportionately as well as colts, which is a healthy sign.

Hold on to those lines!

For a Stake In the Future

Blue Flyer's bloodlines offer you one of the strongest concentrations of stakes to be found in any stallion register. His first three dams won stakes—produced ten stakes winners. These bloodlines are responsible for Blue Delight, stakes winning full sister to Blue Flyer, and the dam of Real Delight (Ashland, C.C.A. Oaks, Ky. Oaks, Black-eyed Susan, Cleopatra, Modesty and Arlington Matron Stakes), All Blue (San Antonio Hdcp.) and the 2-year-old Bubbley, winner of the Debutante and Pollyanna Stakes. Brilliant Errard, sire of an increasing number of 2-year-old winners including Mr. Paradise, is from Blue Flyers second dam.
BLUE FLYER is making his second season in Maryland. Over 90% of his mares are in foal. The son of Blue Larkspur has sired such horses as DIXIE FLYER, 1952 winner of the Regret, Molly Pitcher, Judith Hunter Hdcps.—PETIT BLEU, stakes winner in New England—and Blue Helen, one of the stoutest mares in the Midwest, as well as those repeating winners Musical Lady and Blue Tie (14 wins), Cafe Singer (12 wins), Blue Point, Mesabi and Seymour F. J. (8 wins). The Blue Flyers are good profitable horses. They win—and keep on winning.
